J. WARREN UPTON, LIBRARIAN.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

The Trustees herein present their thirty-eighth annual report. The records of general management and utility of the library for the past year are contained in the reports of the Lyceum and Library Committees, herewith submitted. It is learned from the Librarian's report that the circulation, as compared with last year's, has slightly decreased, the number of volumes circulated being 30,815 against 31,690 for 1888 and 1889. However, a comparison for a series of years, with this exception, will show that the circulation constantly increases and that the advantages of the library are being steadily appreciated by our citizens. The Reading Room has been generously patronized; four new periodicals have been added during the year, making the total number thirty-five for use in this department.

The Trustees realize that the present facilities of the Reading Room are inadequate to its increasing interest and usefulness, and believe that a well-appointed and attractive Reading Room would be a valuable acquisition to the library. This important matter will, no doubt, receive due consideration by the Board at an early day.

The course of lectures given under the auspices of the Lyceum Committee was largely attended, and met with general approval.

The purchase of the Harris property, to which reference was made in the report of last year, has been consummated, and the Institute now possesses ample protection from undesirable encroachments upon its surroundings, and provision is also made for necessary extensions in the future.

This year the assessors having levied a tax on the Institute property, the Trustees have appealed to the town for its abatement, believing that the advantages of the Institution are of such inestimable value to the community, that an act of this kind is neither just nor liberal.

The twelfth of August, the Trustees were called together by special meeting to receive notice of the death of our generous patron, Mrs. Eliza Sutton, the founder of the Eben Dale Sutton Reference Library, which event occurred at Center Harbor, N. H., the tenth of August. A committee, consisting of the President, Mr. F. C. Merrill and Mr. George H. Poor, was appointed to prepare appropriate resolutions, and to make arrangements for the Trustees to attend the funeral in a body. In accordance with the above instructions, on the thirteenth of August the Trustees met at the Institute, and were present at the funeral services held at the residence of Mrs. Eliza D. Clement. On the twenty-first of September, at a meeting of the Trustees, the committee reported the following resolutions which were adopted:

It is with feelings of sadness, that we, the Board of Trustees of the Peabody Institute, meet to take action upon the death of Mrs. Eliza Sutton.

A bereaved mother found consolation for her grief in the remembrance of the benefits and delights that had come to her deceased son from the generous and benevolent acts which resulted in the acquirement of the Peabody Institute for the use of her fellow townsmen.

She chose to supplement Mr. Peabody's generosity and benevolence in a way that should rear a distinct but useful Memorial of high value, to that lost child and companion, by establishing the unique department known as the "Eben Dale Sutton Reference Library," together with her endowment of it.

Her planning was broad and liberal, as shown by her expressed desire that the Memorial, while primarily and chiefly for her own townsmen, should on account of its scholarly and scientific character, be so conducted that "whatever treasures of knowledge it might contain" should be "easily accessible to any desiring to profit by its use."

RESOLVED: that in Mrs. Sutton's death the Institute loses one whose love and affection for her town's people, and whose interest in their advancement, have been shown in her chosen way, by making this Institution the Repository of high scientific, historical and literary works, in such special way as would best attract the student and writer.

She knew that thus could the knowledge and opinions of the best and brightest minds of the world be brought together in her

Memorial Hall, to be stepping stones in the improvement and advancement of successive ages and generations of men.

RESOLVED: that we extend to the relatives of our late benefactor and friend our sincerest sympathy in their bereavement.

RESOLVED: that these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Trustees, and a copy of them be sent to the relatives of the deceased.

The twenty-seventh of November, a special meeting of the Trustees was held to take action upon a communication from the executors of the will of Mrs. Sutton. A bequest of fifteen thousand dollars had been made to the Institute, upon conditions and terms named in the 28th clause of the will, as follows: viz.

COPY OF THE 28th CLAUSE IN THE WILL OF MRS. ELIZA SUTTON.

I give to the Peabody Institute of said Peabody, five thousand dollars to be added to the Eben Dale Sutton Fund, to be permanently invested and the income thereof expended for books for the Reference Library, in the same manner and under the same conditions in all respects as the said fund heretofore given by me to said Peabody Institute, consisting of twenty thousand dollars, is to be kept invested, and the income thereof expended by the terms of the gift as expressed in my two communications to the Trustees of said Institute under the dates of October 15th, 1866, and January 28th, 1867 respectively; I also give to said Peabody Institute, the further sum of five thousand dollars to be invested as a permanent fund, the income thereof so far as may be necessary to be used forever in providing fuel, lights, carpets and furniture for the room or rooms in which the said Reference Library procured by means of the said Eben Dale Sutton Fund shall be kept or placed; and if the entire income of said sum of five thousand dollars shall not be expended for the purposes aforesaid, the unexpended portion of said income shall, once in every five years, be added to the income of the said Eben Dale Sutton Fund and expended for books for said Reference Library in the same manner and under the same conditions as the income from said Eben Dale Sutton Fund is directed to be expended. I also give and bequeath to said Peabody Institute, the further sum of five thousand dollars to be invested as a building fund, and the income thereof shall be added to the principal so as to create a constantly accumulating fund, portions of which fund in the discretion of the Trustees of said Peabody Institute may be used from time to time for enlarging the room or rooms, or for building rooms in which said Reference Library shall be kept, but no part of said building fund or the income thereof shall ever be used for any other purpose than for preparing or building rooms for the accommodation of said Reference Library.

VOTED:—To accept the three several legacies of five thousand dollars each given to the Peabody Institute of Peabody, by the 28th clause of the will of Mrs. Eliza Sutton, upon the terms and conditions and for the purposes therein specified, and that the Treasurer be authorized to receive the same of the executors, and to give due receipt therefor.

In the report of Mr. J. H. Osgood for the Eben Dale Sutton Reference Library Committee, the noble work of Mrs. Sutton, in connection with the Reference Library, is appropriately considered.

The eleventh of January, the resignation of our President, Mr. Francis H. Appleton, from the Board of Trustees, was received, and upon its acceptance the following vote was passed:

"That the resignation of Mr. Francis H. Appleton, as President of the Board, be accepted, and that the Secretary be instructed to convey to him the deep regrets of the Trustees at the severance of his membership from the Board."

During his long connection with the Institute, Mr. Appleton has taken an active interest in its affairs, and rendered valuable service to the detail of its management, and his eminent fitness for the promotion of literary work made him a valuable counselor for the Institute.

The Trustees are glad to commend the faithful services of the Librarian, and to note the careful and efficient manner in which the building and Institute grounds are cared for by the Janitor.

H. F. WALKER,

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

LIBRARY AND LYCEUM COMMITTEE.

TO THE TRUSTEES OF THE PEABODY INSTITUTE :

The accompanying reports from officers and sub-committees will give in detail the business of this committee for the past year.

Respectfully,

H. F. WALKER,
Chairman L. & L. Committee.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE.

TO THE LYCEUM AND LIBRARY COMMITTEE :

The report of the Library Committee for the year ending February 1, 1890, is respectfully submitted.

During the year no change in the rules or conduct of the Library has been made, the rules last adopted and the hours during which the Library is open having proved generally satisfactory to the public.

The patronage of the Library has been satisfactory, and figures submitted with the Librarian's report show the circulation of the various classes; 817 volumes have been added by purchase and gift during the year, the works purchased being mainly new publications of current literature in all classes.

Early in the year the matter of completing our files of periodicals was taken up, and after considerable correspondence a New York firm was found which undertook to supply us with the entire lot needed; it has already forwarded the greater part of them, and is at work upon the remainder, which it is hoped it may succeed in furnishing.

The shelf lists of books have been in bad condition for a number of years, some of them having become nearly illegible from the many erasures and changes necessarily made in them from time to time; during the year, considerable work has been done upon these lists, and many of the sheets re-written, and it is proposed to continue this work until this portion of the Library's catalogue is put in first-class condition.

The work of examining and re-writing the old cards belonging to the card catalogue has also been completed.

The problem of cataloguing accessions, always a serious one with Libraries, has been solved in a satisfactory manner by the system adopted by the Librarian, since the publication of the Finding List last year; Cyclostyle Lists of the monthly accessions are as heretofore placed upon the borrowers' tables, and at the end of each three months are consolidated and printed; this printed summary is then pasted into books provided for the purpose, according to classification, the result being a Finding List upon the plan adopted in the printed one, with as near an alphabetical arrangement under the various classes as is practicable.

Eighty volumes of the catalogues of 1872-1878 have been bound together in paper covers, and a limited number of copies can be obtained of the Librarian at fifty cents each.

Any one having one of these and a copy of the Finding List, possesses a complete catalogue of the Library up to August, 1888.

The new "V" alcove added by the Trustees the past summer was a welcome addition, and its use confirms former good opinions of the merits of alcoves of this shape.

The Reading Room has been well patronized during the year, and the committee has continued all periodicals heretofore subscribed for, and has added the New England Magazines, Science, Arena and Political Science, quarterly.

It is suggested that the lighting of the Reading Room might be improved by lowering the gas fixtures and the substitution of flaring, bell shaped, porcelain or tin reflector shades in place of the porcelain globes now in use; the addition of a few gas burners on the sides of a few of the book cases would also be appreciated.

Attention is due that portion of the Librarian's report in which reference is made to assistant librarians; the clerical work of the Library continually increases, and there is no doubt that a permanent assistant, capable of assisting in cataloguing and similar work, would increase the efficiency of the Library force.

For the Committee,

L. P. OSBORN, Chairman.

LYCEUM COMMITTEE.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVERETT POOR, Chairman.

EBEN DALE SUTTON REFERENCE LIBRARY COMMITTEE.

TO THE LYCEUM AND LIBRARY COMMITTEE:

Enclosed herewith will be found the report of the Librarian of the Eben Dale Sutton Reference Library for the year ending Jan. 31, 1890.

From this report we learn that the number of consultations of the books of the Library has been 416. This number is the same as for the previous year. The number of visitors has increased more than one hundred. It has been 1,364, as against 1,252 for the year before.

The new volumes added to the Library have numbered 73, and 130 serials and pamphlets have been received.

The year that has passed has been made a sadly eventful one in the history of the Library, by the death of Mrs. Eliza Sutton, its founder and generous patron. She died at Center Harbor, N. H., August 10th, 1889.

Her loving desire to perpetuate the memory of her only son, who died Nov. 13th, 1862, by some beneficent work, led to its foundation, and during the twenty-four years since its establishment, it has ever found in her a liberal and discriminating promoter of all its interests.

It seems appropriate at this time and in this report to briefly review the history of the Sutton Reference Library.

In a letter to the Trustees of the Peabody Institute, written on the 15th of October, 1866, Mrs. Sutton signified her desire to convey to them the sum of $20,000, for the establishment of a Library in connection with the Peabody Library, to be called the Eben Dale Sutton Reference Library. Her design was to make it supplementary to the Peabody Library and to devote its funds to the purchase of the more costly books, relating to art and science, to be consulted only in the Library room.

Her first letter closed with the following words: "I shall place the gift in your hands, associated as it is with tender memories, with the full assurance that it will be well administered and prove a lasting blessing to the present and future generations."

At a meeting of the Trustees on the next day, Oct. 16, 1866, the gift was formally accepted by the Trustees, and on the 28th of January, 1867, the money was conveyed to their keeping. In the following summer a large addition was made to the Institute building in order to provide a room for the new Library.

Upon its completion Mrs. Sutton took upon herself the cost of finishing and furnishing the Library room in a suitable manner, and spared no expense to make it a beautiful and appropriate home for the thousands of elegant volumes it now contains.

The Library was formally opened for the consultation of books on the 7th of July, 1869.

From the time of its inception to the close of her long life, a period of nearly a quarter of a century, Mrs. Sutton never ceased to show her deep interest in the affairs of the Library.

She gave to it many costly volumes, the purchase of which would have been beyond the ordinary income of the Library. Among these gifts may be mentioned such works as Audobon's "Birds of America" and Napoleon's "Egypt." Beginning with a few hundred volumes, the Library has accumulated by gift and purchase about 3,000 books, nearly all of most permanent and substantial value.

Mrs. Sutton's last gift to the Library, presented a few weeks before her death, was an excellent bust of her husband, the late Eben Sutton. This now finds an appropriate place in the Library room.

Her interest in the Library did not terminate with her death. By her will, the sum of $5,000 has been added to the fund for purchase of books. The further sum of $10,000 has been set aside, the income of which is to be used for the maintenance of the Library room and the administration of its affairs.

With this large addition to its means the Eben Dale Sutton Library cannot fail to enter upon a new period of its beneficent and useful life.

For the Committee,

J. H. OSGOOD, Chairman,

AUGUSTA F. DANIELS, Librarian.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

TO THE LYCEUM AND LIBRARY COMMITTEE:

The report of the Librarian of the Peabody Library for 1889-90, is respectfully submitted.

During the past year most of the cards of the catalogue of 1852-72 have been copied.

The sorting of the cards of that catalogue and perhaps three-fourths of those of the supplement of 1872-78 has been completed.

When this whole work is finished, the cards of the finding list will be added to their number.

In this arrangement, the cards, author and fiction will be in different drawers from all others.

A list of worn-out, withdrawn and missing volumes from 1872 to January 1890 has been prepared and the number is 922 volumes, mostly fiction.

During the last two years, three copies, at least, of the supplement of 1878 have been taken from the borrower's tables and have not been returned.

Among the above mentioned volumes are "Heaven and Hell," by Swedenborg; "engraved portraits of "Washington" by Baker; "J. Howard Payne's life" by Harrison.

The assistants at the library have always been selected from high school scholars; twenty different ones having been in the service during the last ten years, several of them for a year or less.

A few were in service from two to five years. All these whether employed for a longer or shorter time did acceptable work, but those who remained the longest did the best.

In school matters the substitute does not have the influence and success of a permanent teacher. So, here, the same is true; for the time necessary for an acquaintance with anything except the simple mechanical mode of keeping the records of loaned books requires much thought and experience.

In all libraries having as many volumes, or, even less, one or more permanent assistants are employed, and now-a-days, most of them have a special training, so that they are competent to perform any of the duties of the librarian, leaving him some time to acquire a knowledge of the contents of the books, the titles and authors which he is to catalogue, and to assist borrowers in their selections.
